

Essay Writing Service

You can go two ways: write on your own on review sites about the products you use, or take orders for reviews.

In the first case, you need to choose a site, such as Reviews PRO, register on it and tell the site about your experience of using a product or service. You yourself determine the topic, content and mood of the work. The volume can also be at your discretion. The main thing is that it does not violate the requirements of the feedback site.

Payment is charged either for placement, or for 1,000 hits, or both at once.

How much does an essay writing service cost?

Another option - to take orders for reviews. Then the customer already decides how, about what, where, how much to write, and other things. Employers do not always want the review to be posted on review sites. They can ask to publish the work on a blog, forum, social networks, online store, marketplaces and other platforms.

Similar jobs can be found on exchanges. They usually pay a fixed amount.

In any case, the review must be unique. You can not just take someone else's work and pass it off as your own. Otherwise, you will be blocked on the review sites, and the customer will not accept the work.

Writing posts for social networks

This is a task of medium complexity. If you write once a praise post, more like a review, then it is not difficult. But there is a way of earning and more difficult areas.

The first is the writing of advertisements. In volume it may be very short work, but it should tsepchatit reader, push to buy or move to the site. And on this is not every specialist is capable.

Second - maintaining a community in a social network. You need to come up with interesting posts every day, all related to a single topic. If the group is about the news, it's not necessary to give not a dry text, and fascinating reading, if about films and serials, you must create a colorful description.

Jobs can be found at stock exchanges, specialized job sites or in those very communities, such as in discussions.

Rewriting

Moving closer to the "big league". Rewriting - one of the ways of writing texts, which is based on rewriting the original source so that the article would be unique, while retaining its meaning and essence.

For this purpose rewriters use synonyms, change the order of words and sometimes sentences, make simple phrases out of complex ones and so on. In most cases in rewriting an unauthorized user can see that one text is rewritten from another. To prevent this from happening, you must use in-depth rewriting.

This is also rewriting the material, but not from one information source, but from several. Then guess the original source will be much harder.

The customer can provide the text which needs to be rewritten, or he must look for it himself.

Rewriting is often used when writing news articles and posts. The news in any case will be the same, but the text must be made unique to several sites at once.

Usually pay for this type of work for 1,000 characters.

Beginners who want to make a profit from writing texts, most often begin with rewriting. And after gaining experience, skills and confidence in their own abilities go to copywriting.

Custom Writing

Custom Writing - is writing texts from scratch.

The specialist thinks up the structure of the work himself, decides what to write and in what sequence, and also uses his own experience to create an article. It is possible to use third-party sources, but only for information. Rewriting sentences, paragraphs and the whole text from there is not allowed.

Therefore, you need to choose only those topics in which you are knowledgeable. For example, doctors can write about medicine and health, tour guides can write about places of interest, and women who have children can give tips on caring for babies.

You can write different types of papers:

- press releases;
- weblinks;
- reviews of products and services;
- advertisements;
- informational articles and much more.

SEO-copywriting is also common on the Internet. It is the same independent creation of a new and unique text, but with the addition of keywords. They are used to raise the article in search results and make it more popular. The copywriter should be able to insert the "keys" into the article competently and naturally, so that they do not catch the eye.

In addition to keywords, SEO-copywriting takes into account the water content of the text, ad nauseum academic and classical and much more. All of these indicators can be checked on special services.

Jobs can be found on freelance and copywriting exchanges, in communities on social networks, on forums.

Selling ready-made articles

There are situations when beginners without experience try to earn on copywriting, but they, alas, do not succeed. The article remains unpaid, the customer leaves, and the time is already spent. You should not give up early. After all, the finished work can be put up for sale.

The author decides how and what to write about. He can not take into account the requirements and wishes of others, and to create an article based on their own "wants. After that it is necessary to work
